

Learning Disability & ADHD Testing Neuropsychological Evaluations

A list of professionals who perform educational assessments has been compiled as a service to students. These are only suggestions; Normandale does not do referrals. If you believe you have a learning disability, you may want to use the term "neuropsychological evaluation" when requesting an assessment; this seems to increase the probability of insurance coverage. If the evaluation documents a disability, accommodations may be provided at Normandale through the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD). Please call 952-487-7037/7035 for an intake/interview appointment.
